Meandering
Along the Main Stem

There is a screen door on the Ed Hidy grocery store on Pearl Street that probably holds the record for the longest period of continuous service.

The door was placed on the store back in 1906, a matter of 36 years ago. Harry Wood operated the store for many years, later selling it to Hidy, who has been in charge the past five years.

It is true that more than one set of new screen wire has been put in the door during those 36 years, but the woodwork is the same and apparently is good for many more years.

W. A. Shoults, salesman for the General Distributing Co., of Newton, Kas., which makes cardboard chick feeders, walked into the Record-Herald office and proceeded to introduce himself as former proprietor of a grocery store on Court Street, which he sold to N. S. Barnett back in 1898—44 years ago.

Shoults left here in 1912 and went to Indiana to sell buggy whips. Of course that business has been dead for many years, so he has been engaged in other business.

Shoults was a brother of Abe Shoults, who died August 28, at Oklahoma City, Okla., at the age of 91 years. Abe Shoults was superintendent of the old Ludlow Soap Co. factory, which was located on the site of the Fayette Canning Co. plant. His wife was a sister of the late Mrs. Carrie B. Willis.

Shoults merely passed through Washington C. H. on a business trip, and remarked about the tremendous changes in the "old town" since he was engaged in the grocery business here nearly half a century ago.

WAGE HIKE DEMANDS
ARE HIT BY UNIONAFL Warns Workers Not To Expect Steady Rise

CLEVELAND, Sept. 14.—(AP)—AFL plumbers and steamfitters today were urged by one of their leaders to abandon "the illogical belief that wages must constantly rise regardless of the consequences."

Assembling for their 24th national convention, plumbers and steamfitters received copies of the union's monthly journal which, in the leading editorial, commented:

"Many of our members are demanding higher wages regardless of the ultimate cost to society and themselves. We must be alert to the rising spiral of inflation which is staring us in the face."

JAPS HELD AT BAY
OFF PORT MORESBY

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Allied forces held the Japanese invader at bay 40 miles north of Port Moresby for the fourth successive day yesterday, while medium bombers dropped 17 tons of bombs on the Japanese base and airfield at Lae and flying fortresses attacked three enemy merchant ships and a cruiser off New Guinea a communiqué said today.

General MacArthur reported patrols active on both sides in the Owen Stanley Mountain range where the Japanese have been on Port Moresby, but the situation "remains unchanged."

MISSING OFFICIAL
COMES BACK HOME

TOLEDO, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Roman Pawlikowski, 33, former Lucas County, deputy treasurer, who was reported missing after his boat was found adrift on Sandusky Bay, two years ago, returned home today.

He said he must have experienced a mental lapse while fishing. Since his boat was found in the bay on Sept. 7, 1940, Pawlikowski said he had been in Florida where he operated a cafe and had also traveled with an amusement concern.

Markets Introduced

JOB TO BE HANDED FDR

No Provision To Place Floor
Under Farm Prices or Wages Put in Bill

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Legislation specifically authorizing President Roosevelt to stabilize wages and salaries as of August 15 and farm prices at levels not below parity was introduced today in the senate in response to the President's demand that Congress act by Oct. 1 to control inflation.

Offered by Chairman Wagner (D-NY) of the banking committee and Senator Brown (D-Mich) pilot of previous administration price control legislation, the resolution would give the president broad power to deal with all other factors involved in the cost of living.

Brown explained that the bill "does not require that prices for agricultural commodities go to parity," but that commodities now below parity would be subject to "natural economic conditions."

The bill provides that the price ceiling shall not be fixed below the higher of these two alternatives:

1. The parity price or "a comparable price" where one has been determined, or

2. The highest market price between Jan. 1 and Sept. 15, 1942.

The president could suspend section three of the price control act which prohibits the fixing of a ceiling on agricultural prices until they reach 110 percent of parity.

In the case of other prices that figure in the cost of living, Brown said there probably would be little change made from the March levels at which price administration Leon Henderson has already fixed them.

"The president knows what is in the bill, we consulted fully with the president on it and I think it is in conformity with the president's objectives," Brown said.

Wagner announced that the banking committee would open hearings tomorrow and that they probably would last two or three days.

In stabilizing wages and prices, Brown said the president would be authorized to take into account substandard conditions and to correct any "gross inequities" that might arise.

He could not, however, force agricultural prices below parity levels.

This general effect of this limitation, Brown said, would be to keep farm prices at about their present levels, since the average of these prices now is estimated at 101 percent of parity.

Labor controls were added after experienced legislators became convinced that farm state lawmakers would balk at trimming price ceilings below 110 percent of parity unless a formula was provided.

Married Men and Boys
Get Closer to Draft as American Army Grows

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Major General Lewis B. Hershey, national director of selective service, thinks the war is getting closer to married men with children and to youths of 18 and 19.

"We can't call a recess in this war until people grow up," General Hershey told New Jersey Legionnaires yesterday, referring to forecasts that the younger men would be drafted soon. "Prospects of a very large mobilization seem in the cards for next year."

He predicted that the manpower needs of global war would result in previously deferred husbands with dependents and war production workers being called to arms.

"We will have to come to the realization that there are not enough single men, that there are not enough married men without dependents for the mobilization."

FORCED SAVINGS
IN TAXES URGEDSales Levy Is Recommended
To Raise More Money To Finance War

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—A program linking compulsory savings with the enactment of a two-year revenue bill that would yield the treasury's full goal of $8,700,000,000 annually in new taxes was advanced by Senator Byrd (D-Va) today as the Senate finance committee neared the end of its job of rewriting the House tax bill.

Expressing dissatisfaction with both the terms and the yield of the pending measure, Byrd told reporters he thought the committee should adopt a sales levy and change other rate schedules to create a tax structure that would last at least two years and produce upwards of $26,000,000,000 in direct annual revenue.

Legislation also should be enacted to compel the public to buy government bonds in order to provide the financing needed to keep the war program running full blast, he asserted.

"We are going to have a $50,000,000,000 deficit this year and unless we have compulsory savings which will channel the money into the treasury, I don't see how we are going to finance it," he told reporters.

The committee already has voted to amend the bill to direct a joint congressional study of compulsory savings.

TOLEDO, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Webster School, ordered closed by the Board of Education as an economic measure, was without students as Toledo's public schools resumed today, but a host of parents were on hand—formed in a picket line to protest the closing of the 36-room structure.

The parents carried placards demanding that the school be reopened and some said they would refuse to send their children to other schools.

COLD-BLOODED DOUBLE KILLING
OF WOMEN BARED BY DESERTER'I Made Both Get Out of Car and Take Off Clothes . . . I Fired at Them . . . They Both Fell at Same Time,' Renegade Soldier
Says After Capture with Two Young Girls in Car
Stolen from Slain Social Workers

SAN MARIA, CALIF., Sept. 14.—(AP)—A vivid description of how he killed two Wisconsin social workers was contained in a lengthy confession authorities possessed today from Robert T. Bailey, 23-year-old Army deserter.

Thomas Weldon, deputy district attorney, said Bailey admitted shooting Miss Neil Pietrangeli, 30, and Dorothy Baun, 32, and leaving their nude bodies near Tomah, Wis., last Monday night, after they had befriended him by giving him a ride at Madison.

"After driving down the road, I made both these women get out of the car and take off all their clothing," Bailey's confession to Weldon stated.

"At this time, they said, 'Let's call the whole thing off,' and I said, 'No, get going.' Tall they said it wouldn't do me any good, and I told them to get going, and I fired at them.

"The big one (Bailey said he didn't know their names) was a little ahead of the little one from me, and they both fell at the same time when I fired the first time. I stood off about five yards and I shot the bigger one in the back while she was standing there.

"The little one was grunting and groaning, and when she turned over, I shot her. I fired three shots altogether. I believe the first shot went through the smaller girl and also struck and knocked down the bigger girl ahead of her.

"When I shot first, they both fell and the big one never said anything. The little one screamed out: 'He's killing me,' he's killing me."

Bailey was arrested Saturday after driving here with two 16-year-old girls he met in Sioux City, Ia., after the killings. Bailey was arrested while painting out the white sidewall tires on the car.

Sheriff H. T. Jenkins and District Attorney Leo J. Goodman are en route here from Sparta, Miss., to take custody of Bailey. They hope to return him there for murder trial, despite Federal charges against him.

Weldon said Bailey also told him he had intended going to Fort Ord, north of here, to kill his brother, W. R. Bailey. The prisoner held a grudge against his brother for turning him over to a Mississippi parole officer five years ago, Weldon quoted him as saying.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Australian veterans who fought the Germans at Tobruk and the Japanese at Milne Bay agreed unanimously today that the Japanese soldier is a wily fighting man more dangerous than any Hitler threw at them.

"It was like fighting tigers down in that jungle and it was a question of kill or be killed," said one Aussie who got a bullet wound in the neck at Milne Bay, in southeastern New Guinea.

"There was no quarter given and no prisoners taken on either side."

He was among the first wounded to arrive in Australia from the Milne Bay action which started August 26 when a Japanese convoy moved in a naval landing force under cover of darkness in a pelting rain.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Albert H. Morrill, 67, for 12 years president of The Kroger Grocery and Baking Co., died unexpectedly in his suburban home near Montgomery, two hours after he summoned his physician for treatment of a heart ailment.

Funeral arrangements were held in abeyance pending the return from California today of a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Holladay, wife of an Army Air Force captain.

The stocky, grey-haired executive succeeded William H. Albers as Kroger president in 1930 after serving as the firm's general counsel.

Born and reared in Cincinnati, Morrill was a grandson of William Holmes McGuffey, famous for his readers. He attended Dartmouth College and the University of Cincinnati Law School. In 1900 he began law practice which he interrupted during the first world war to serve with an artillery unit.

U. S. War Production
At Only Half Maximum,
President Tells Congress

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—President Roosevelt told Congress today that the United States was producing only a little more than 50 percent of its maximum possible war production and solemnly warned:

"Not until we have reached the maximum—and we can do this only by stripping our civilian economy to the bone—can our fighting men and those of our Allies be assured of the vastly greater quantities of weapons required to turn the tide."

"Not until then can the United Nations march forward together to certain victory."

The President's statement was in a letter transmitting the sixth quarterly lend-lease report in which he spoke of Britain as an "offensive base." The report showed such aid to the British commonwealth of nations and 35 other countries during the 18 months since the program began totaled $6,489,000,000, with actual exports amounting to $3,525,000,000. In the same time lend-lease countries purchased $5,800,000,000 worth of goods, including munitions, from this country.

At present, the report said, about 35 percent of lend-lease exports were going to the United Kingdom, 35 percent to Russia, and 30 percent to the Middle East, Australia and other areas.

"Aid to China," it was added, "has been limited by the difficulty of shipping."

By Russian accounts, however, the battered capital of the lower

HITLER FEARS WINTER

LONDON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The Germans were reported today to be making intense preparations for a strongly fortified winter line in Russia even while the terrific frontal assault on Stalingrad continues. Behind this line Hitler apparently hopes to regroup. Rest and re-equip his badly mauled forces.

Volga region still flew her Red banners of battle, with the few checked once more on the outskirts.

The Germans said Stalingrad had been entered in both the southern and northwestern sections. The southern penetration was first reported yesterday, the latest German claim said dominating heights in the northwest of the city were occupied after a bloody fight.

Typical of the repeated rectifications in the semi-circle of defense was the official Russian admission that precious ground had been yielded southwest of Stalingrad but only until strength could be marshaled to stop the new penetration.

British and Russian airmen flailed Germany from the west and the east during last night. A strong RAF force hammered anew at Bremen, important plane and submarine construction center of northwest Germany.

A hint of the strength of the RAF attack came in the British acknowledgment that 19 bombers were missing after the night's work. It was the 100th raid on Bremen, Germany's second largest port.

Officially, the RAF attackers amounted to "a very strong force"—a British phrase used in the past to mean hundreds of planes.

Besides mass night attacks on Bremen and other objectives in northwestern Germany and "intruder patrols" over northern France, the RAF executed dawn attacks with single planes in the same general area of Germany.

The Russian objectives in Germany had not been identified but a German broadcast dispatch said that the Russians also bombed Bucharest, Rumania's capital, and "ineffectively attacked" the oilfield section around Ploesti, also in Rumania.

The dispatch said it had been rumored that parachutists were landed in the Ploesti region, but added, "No confirmation of this report is forthcoming."

The German suggestion that Russian saboteurs might have been landed in this rich oil region fitted into the widening pattern of such attacks by the British and Russians over the week end.

These were topped by a reported British action against Tobruk on the Mediterranean and a Russian marine landing behind German positions facing northernmost Russia along the Barents Sea.

The sea-borne Russians struck into either Finland or Norway. This action, it was reported yesterday from Moscow, resulted in capture of 200 prisoners and destruction of considerable material. At last reports the assault was still under way.

The German high command was the authority for the odd report that a British detachment

New Nazi Planes Indicate England May Expect More Air Raids

By DE WITT MACKENZIE

Disclosure that the Nazis have developed three new warplanes for use against the British, including a sub-sonic bomber capable of operating from a height of 40,000 feet, lends substance to Berlin's threat last week that Germany is preparing to launch unprecedented air-raids over England.

There's no reason to doubt that this threat accurately describes one of the Fuehrer's objectives and that he is getting set for the assault. To my mind, however, that doesn't tell the whole story. Indications are that we also may expect a terrific dog fight for supremacy of the air over western Europe.

The steadily increasing British and American strength has put the Nazi chief on the spot. The Anglo-Yankee combination already holds superiority (though not "supremacy") in the air, and he must answer this Allied challenge to domination—for two reasons:

1. His vital industrial centers are being devastated systematically by Royal Air Force and American bombing on a big scale. Moreover, his rail transport is being cut to pieces. That's a bad combination.

2. If Hitler is to protect himself against a land invasion of western Europe, he must control the air, just as the Allies must control it if they are to put an expeditionary army ashore. He certainly doesn't dominate it now, and Major General Carl Spaatz, commander of U. S. Army Air Forces in Europe, declares our "Flying Fortresses" are the key to aerial mastery.

For long weeks now Hitler has stood by in apparent meekness and seen his resources disappear in the deluge of Allied bombing he has seen some of his proudest cities all but wiped out. But his meekness has been seeming and not real, for there's nothing meek about this man who would be emperor of all mankind.

The cold fact is that Hitler has had to use virtually every available warplane in his efforts to subdue the Reds.

However, approaching winter will see a slackening of the fighting in the Caucasus, and Hitler will be able to release planes for operations elsewhere. He also will have recently manufactured machines ready for action. Besides the sub-sonic bomber, these include a four-motored Heinkel 177 which carries eight tons of bombs—the equal of Britain's biggest planes—and the Focke-Wulf 190, a fast, bomb-carrying fighter.

All this should provide a mighty urge for Uncle Sam's builders of warplanes. Our production is far short of capacity, and it's imperative that a steady stream of bombers and fighters be kept pouring into our bases in the British Isles. It's vital that the Allies win absolute supremacy over western Europe if we are to establish that second front and get ahead with the job of beating the Nazis.

Our task of production is all the greater because our air-fleet now is in action in all sectors of this global war. The number of planes we produce between now and spring will have much to do with the length of time it will take to crush the enemy.

of seven men attempted to land on the French coast east of Cherbourg, France, on Saturday night. Their boat was said to have been sunk by shore guns and the seven men killed or captured.

The detachment consisted strangely of five officers, including one from the Fighting French Navy, according to the German account. Berlin was as silent in construing their mission as the British were on the entire affair.

The reported Commando-like operation involving the use of parachutists, promised enlivened action in North Africa. The British withheld comment on this development. The Italians said a heavy air attack was the prelude to this landing attempt in the vicinity of Tobruk, far behind Axis battle lines.

SEVEN ATTEND CLUB CONGRESS AT OHIO STATE

Four-H Members Assemble For Annual Event Now Under Way

Seven Fayette County 4-H Club delegates are attending the annual Club Congress at Ohio State University, where Ohio's 50,000 club members and their advisors, parents and friends can share the experiences of the 400 fortunate ones who are attending the meeting by listening to the broadcasts over University Station WOSU. There are interesting speakers and the experiences of the boys and girls who are delegates are being related.

Going as delegates from this county were: Lois Cavine, Mary Niles, Charlotte Scott, Betty James, Marvin Waddle, Karl Harper and Mrs. C. C. Marine. They went up Sunday afternoon by bus.

The 28th Ohio Club Congress broadcast series was started at 9:00 to 9:30 A. M. Monday, by Dr. A. B. Graham, who organized the first boy's club in Ohio in 1902. Dr. Graham will tell how service to others increases personal stature.

A selected group of 4-H delegates will broadcast each of the four days at 1:30 P. M. except on Tuesday, September 15, when they will be on the air at noon. Delegates at the Congress are awarded an opportunity to attend because they have done excellent work in club projects at home.

The speakers whose talks will be broadcast, in addition to Dr. Graham, will be William Manahan, Defiance, farmers' institute staff, 8:00-8:30 P. M. Monday; Allen Baker, Pennsylvania state club leader, 9:00-9:30 A. M. Tuesday; Dr. Frank Slutz, Dayton, 9:00-9:30 A. M. Wednesday; J. P. Schmidt, supervisor farmers' institutes, 9:00-9:30 A. M. Thursday, and Governor John W. Bricker, 8:00 P. M. Wednesday.

Delegates to Club Congress are not merely listeners. Most of their time is spent in group discussions of the speakers' talks and of any other related topics. The annual Congress banquet and party will be held Thursday evening, and the delegates return home Friday afternoon.

Albert B. Graham, who founded the Groups which later took the name 4-H Clubs, told rural young men and women attending the Congress today that "humans are born into group life with the home, school and church as interlocking influences."

"Living consists mainly in adjusting ourselves to these groups," said Graham, who in 1902 while superintendent of Clark County rural schools formed the boys and girls' agriculture clubs. He recalled there were only 85 members then, while today 4-H clubs have 1,500,000 members.

where the Russians appeared to be trying to improve that city's position for a second winter of siege.

The Russians reported that the long developing German drive toward the Grozny oil fields of the Caucasus had been halted but that the Germans were bringing up reinforcements for a new assault.

Against the official German claim that shock troops actually had battered their way into the southern part of the city was the Russian concession that a "populated place" southwest of Stalingrad had fallen.

From both the southwest and the west the Germans were sending in streams of mechanized armor and reserve troops. It was obvious that Hitler had ordered occupation of Stalingrad, whatever the cost.

The British reported steady progress in their cleanup of Madagascar, in the Indian Ocean off southeast Africa. This island, remaining largely in control of the Vichy French after the original British penetration of last May, now seemed to have been neutralized by the new operations as an Axis threat to Allied sea communications.

Apart from the Stalingrad action, the Russian front was highly active in the Rzhev area, northwest of Moscow, where the Germans said the Russians continued to attack under artillery cover, and east of Leningrad.

MARION YANKIE AGAIN ARRESTED FOR AUTO THEFT

Man Had Been Released Here Recently To Enter Military Service

Marion Yankee, of Pike County, the man who was taken into custody by City Manager Edwin Ducey in an automobile Yankee had stolen from the Fayette Canning Co. two or three months ago and who had been giving his freedom here to enter the Army, was arrested at Greenfield Saturday while in possession of Ed Mershon's automobile stolen here several days ago.

Yankie fell into a trap set by Sheriff W. H. Icenhower, who had been working on the case for several days and knew that Yankie had the stolen car.

Efforts had been made to locate Yankie at his home in Pike County, where Sheriff Icenhower posed as a farmer wanting corn cutters. He learned Yankie's address in Dayton, but the man did not appear there where police had set up a watch.

It was learned that he had been in Bainbridge with the stolen car a few nights ago and had also been seen in Greenfield, so plans were laid to pick him up wherever he appeared.

When Yankie was taken into custody by the Greenfield police with the stolen car he was displaying a set of stolen Illinois license plates on the car and had traded the good tires for other tires of very inferior quality.

Yankie had stolen the car here a week ago and said he had driven it some 2,000 miles. He said he got the Illinois plates from his brother.

When the Greenfield police arrested Yankie he was intoxicated, reports stated. Sheriff Icenhower, who had been making a widespread search for Yankie after learning that he had stolen the Mershon car, had officers in many towns looking for him.

Yankie was brought back to Washington C. H. immediately and placed in the county jail. He will face second degree charges of auto theft here.

Sheriff Icenhower said Yankie was scheduled to be inducted into the military service at Waverly sometime this week, but his second arrest for auto theft is expected to change the plan of his induction.

Pleading guilty in Justice George Worrell's court to a charge of stealing the Mershon car, Yankie was held to the grand jury under $1,000 bond, and failing to furnish this, was returned to jail.

He is already under charges here of stealing the Fayette Canning Co. automobile.

culty of transportation, but the development of other means of transportation will relieve this situation.

FALL FESTIVAL ON THIS WEEK AT NEW HOLLAND

Patriotic Program Planned For Entertainment—Profits For Men in Service

New Hollanders today were getting their affairs in order so they can devote Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday to the biggest event of the year for the town—the Fall Festival.

This year, the Festival takes on a wartime complexion. Arch Post of the American Legion, the sponsor, has made all the arrangements and directed their plans to one end—to make the life of the boys who have gone from the community into the service a little brighter.

All of the profits, swelled by the attendance of the "folks back home" and their spending, are to be used to give the men in uniform some extra comforts and pleasures and a few luxuries.

In keeping with the patriotic purpose, the program has been developed on a patriotic theme.

The Festival this year also has been designed along lines of the times recommended by the government—to keep as much entertainment as possible on the home front to relieve some of the wartime strain and war-fraught nerves of the people who have seen relatives and friends go away into the service and are making sacrifices in their personal life in doing their bit to help America win a war.

The village will take on the appearance of a carnival midway within the next few hours. Booths will line the sidewalks and the streets will be filled with rides and sidishows. "New and attractive features," have been promised by the committee.

Wednesday night has again been set aside as Greenfield, Washington C. H. and Fayette County night.

Thursday night is being given over to the county seat—Circle-ville and Pickaway County.

Friday night is School Night, also announced as Chillicothe and Ross County night.

Saturday is for the annual home-coming, a time when former residents pay their visit—along with the hundreds and hundreds from over a 25-mile radius.

WILL ORGANIZE JUNIOR ARMY TO COLLECT SCRAP

Local Educators Attend Important Sessions In Columbus

A number of Fayette County educators, including Superintendent A. B. Murray, of the city schools, Superintendent W. J. Hilly, of the county schools and several others were in Columbus Friday and Saturday attending an important meeting of educators.

At the Friday session plans were made to organize Ohio's "Junior Army"—the school children—to aid America's war production battle by collecting scrap metal and rubber missed in previous drives.

School officials and members of the state salvage committee planned the "third front" drive.

The campaign will open October 5 after boys and girls have been enlisted in a military-type organization commissioned to get the scrap out of "fields, yards and basements before the snow flies," said A. A. Hoopingarner, vice chairman of the Ohio Salvage Committee.

Kenneth C. Ray, State Education director, will be commanding general of the "Junior Army." School superintendents will rank as colonels, principals will be majors, teachers will become captains and pupils will fill the ranks.

Letter writing, poster and slogan contests will be used to spur interest in the drive.

Formation of the "Army" had been requested by the State Department of Education, in response to request from the Salvage Division of the U. S. War Board and similar "junior armies" will be organized throughout the United States.

WINTER BARLEY DRAWS QUESTIONS

Entomologist States Fly Rarely Attacks It

Many Fayette County farmers have recently made inquiry of County Agent W. W. Montgomery, regarding the sowing of winter barley, and indications are a greater acreage of this grain will be sown than usual, and be sown later than heretofore.

Most of the farmers have asked whether or not the Hessian fly damages winter barley, and they have been referred to the following statement of T. H. Parks, extension entomologist of the Ohio State University.

"Winter barley is rarely severely injured by fly, but inspection of barley fields in July showed them to carry about one-third as much fly as wheat in the same locality. While barley may be sown early without a great deal of danger to that crop, it passes the infestation along to the wheat in the spring. Early sowing of fall barley, while a safe and desirable practice in many years, should be discouraged in the southern half of Ohio this fall."

WARD C. MILLER NEW MANAGER OF OFFICE HERE

Succeeds Charles Duntun At U. S. Employment Branch

Ward C. Miller, assistant manager of the United States Employment Office in Chillicothe, has been transferred to Washington C. H. to succeed Charles Duntun as manager of the office here. He started his work Monday. This announcement was made by Wade Hammond, director of the USES in Ohio.

Duntun resigned a short time ago to become employment manager of the Aeronautical Products Co., Inc., plant here.

Miller has had eight years experience in Employment Service work, four years as Manager of the National Reemployment Service office and is well qualified to direct the work of the local office.

He has worked closely with employers and can fully carry out the program of the Employment Service as directed by the War Manpower Commission and the War Production Board.

Miller is married and is a veteran of World War I, having served with the 18th infantry of the 1st Division overseas. He will move his family to Washington Court House in the near future.

Hammond states that he regrets very much the loss of Charles Duntun, the former local manager, but he assures the employers and the job applicants of Washington Court House and Fayette County that the excellent service that they have received will be continued. He said he feels sure that the employers will extend Miller the same courtesy and co-operation they have extended Duntun in the past.

Wagner (D-NY) co-author of the bill, had found it impossible thus far to perfect provisions which would place floors under wages and farm prices. He added that Chairman Steagall (D-Ala.) might offer in his chamber a bill providing for a floor under farm prices.

Brown said the president's general stabilization authority would be broad enough so that he could deal with such factors as proposed military rate increases. The general powers, he commented, would be "as broad as anybody wants them in that respect."

He said he had explained the bill to many senators and had yet to encounter any opposition.

HONEY YIELD BELOW NORMAL REPORTS STATE

Little More Than Half of Average Yield Seen In Community

Reports indicate that the honey yield in this part of Ohio will run about half of a normal one, according to local bee men.

Reports vary considerably, and indicate that in some instances the yield will be about one-fourth while in other cases two-thirds of a yield is reported.

Rev. W. H. Wilson, who last year had over 6,000 pounds of honey for sale, was able to take somewhat over 3,000 pounds this year.

Another bee-keeper with 35 stands took only 350 pounds from the hives.

Cool and wet weather at an important time during the flow of nectar are believed to have caused the shortage of honey.

With the rationing of sugar, there has been a very heavy demand for honey, and the small yield will mean higher prices for honey generally.

Cardinals Take Lead as Dodgers Lose Two to Reds

-Spying- On Sports

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14—It was bound to come—what with all these tales of coach-shortages that have appeared since football began making headlines, and Hal Sayles of the Abilene (Tex.) Reporter-News brings the first report of a college player-coach. The guy is Arthur Wylie, a 235-pound tackle at McMurry College, who was drafted by head-man Jim Conger when no line coach could be located. Wylie will play his usual 50 or 60 minutes on game days and coach the rest of the week. If Art pulls a boner, Sayles suggests there's only one thing for him to do—go to the sidelines, beckon to a sub and say: "Go in there at tackle for that thick-headed Wylie."

Striking A Hit

First sign of approaching winter is the way bowling news is picking up. Now comes a new organization called "700 Bowling Clubs of America," limited, of course, to pinsters who have rolled a 700 series. Founder Ferd Lipovetz of La Crosse, Wis., reports it's going over big and a "600" women's auxiliary is being formed. How about the "alley cats" for you guys who never knock over a pin?

Sportpourri

Fritzie Zivic didn't collect a cent for that win over Red Cochrane—yet. Jimmy Grippio tied up the dough with a suit for $19,500 over a Melio Bettina-Harry Bobo scrap he says Fritz was going to promote but didn't. First casualty of the Wayne U. grid training camp at Charlevoix, Mich., was photographer Snuffy McGill, who went fishing on a rainy day and received a lacerated thumb in a tangle with a Great Northern pike. Latest nickname for the Chicago Cardinals—Conzelmanniacs.

Today's Guest Star

Nixon Denton, Cincinnati Times-Star: "The fact that St. Paul is trying to sell its franchise in the American Association should enable local writs to suggest that it's a splendid opportunity for the Reds to get where they belong."

West Virginian Wins AAU Horseshoe Title

NEWPORT, Ky., Sept. 14—(P)—Arner Lindquist of Morgantown, W. Va., won the National Senior AAU horseshoe pitching contest with a ringer average of 66.5 percent and then teamed with Stanley Manker of Chillicothe, Ohio Champion, to place second in doubles, won by defending titlists John Lindmeier and Dorne Woodhouse of Chicago. Manker finished in a four-way tie for fourth in the singles.

In 1941, the United States, Brazil and the United Kingdom purchased 75 per cent of Argentina's exports.

RECORDS TAKE BEATING AT BEULAH PARK RACES

Away to a good start, the current meeting of running races at Beulah Park gives every indication of shattering a number of records before its conclusion.

One speed record has already been broken and the one-day attendance record equalled. Honey Chile, the good router from L. J. Marks' stable, has lowered the track mark for the mile and a quarter distance to 2:05 2-5, shaving three-fifths of a second off the standard set by Chehalis in 1938. The turnout of 11,000 fans on Labor Day equalled the one-day attendance record established on Memorial Day last spring. The 19-day meeting, incidentally, promises to set a new attendance record for a season of that duration at the Grove City course.

Beulah Park has set up some sort of a record for winning odds-on favorites. Not since 1941 has an odds-on choice been defeated at the Grove City course and thus far this year, 15 have

BUMS LOOK BUM AND CARDS BUT LITTLE BETTER

Yankees, Meanwhile, Romp Merrily Along Toward Another A. L. Flag

By SID FEDER

(By The Associated Press) The St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers seem to have cooled off in their fight for the National League pennant—and it might be that they've just discovered the New York Yankees are about to clinch the American League pennant.

The National League winner has to take on the Yanks in the World Series, and in five of the last six sets, that has turned out to be about as hilarious as a champagne hangover.

A victory in Cleveland today or a loss for the Boston Red Sox in Chicago gives the Yanks their sixth pennant in seven years.

So the news may have affected the Dodgers and Cardinals accordingly.

Anyway, there were few signs during yesterday's firing that either the collapsible Flatbush Follies or the hot-and-cold Cardinals weren't any too eager to get in there with the Yankees accordingly.

The Dodgers, after three days of dropping their stitches one at a time, came completely apart at the seams in losing both ends of a doubleheader to Cincinnati, 6-3 and 4-1. It's probably a lucky thing they're able to close for repairs until Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the Cards looked somewhat better in splitting a bargain bill with the Philadelphia Phils to take a one-game edge in the race. But with a chance to double that bulge they handed the first game to the Phils, 2-1. They did it, mind you, on a couple of errors with two out in the ninth.

After that, they took the nightcap, 3 to 2, when Terry Moore broke a tie with his fifth homer of the year.

Young Lennie Merullo, the Chicago Cubs' shortstop, set a new record for error making. Apparently excited over becoming a new papa, Lennie fumbled four in one frame of the second game with the Boston Braves, but Chicago managed to hang on for a 12-8 triumph. The Braves took the opener, 11 to 6.

The Yankees arrived at the pennant doorstep by mowing down Cleveland, 9-1 and 4-1 behind Red Ruffing and Hank Borowy. The Red Sox also clicked twice over the Chicago White Sox 6-1 and 5-0 with Bill Butland winning his seventh in a row in the first and Tex Hughson collecting his 19th win in the afterpiece.

This left the Bostons in a spot where the one way they can still win the pennant is to take all their remaining games while the Yanks lose all their outings.

Otherwise, the clubs were just playing out the string. The New York Giants knocked over Pittsburgh twice, 5-0 and 5-3; the St. Louis Browns gave Philadelphia Athletics the same medicine, 7-0 and 3-2, and Washington took the first from Detroit, 5-2, but lost the second, 8-0.

romped home in front. The 15 include three at the current meet. Close contests loom for the jockey, owner and trainer honors. Off in the first flight in the jockey race are three Ohio boys—Colin Knisley, of Washington C. H.; Ramon Barber, of Springfield, and Jack Flinchum, of Miamisburg. Martin Bletzacker, of Somerset, also has been showing good form in the saddle.

In the top division of the trainers' standing are Marks, J. C. Sawyer and Bill DeFlorville. Mrs. J. C. Sawyer, Cheyenne, Wyo., sportsman, is in the first bracket among the owners. Post time is 2:15 P. M. daily, except Thursdays when the opening race is run at 3:30. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays are ladies' days.

Tickets for the two Army and Navy Emergency Relief Fund days—Sept. 28 and 29—have been placed on sale at the track and are moving at a rapid gait.

MICHIGAN BACKFIELD LOOKSTOUGH WITH KUZMA SHOWING OLD FORM

By PAUL CHANDLER

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 14—(P)—If Tom Kuzma can force Fritz Crisler to swallow his words this football season, Tom and Fritz will both be happy and so will Michigan.

Coach Crisler, grinning sheepishly, acknowledges gossip which credits him with having said that Kuzma, sophomore halfback sensation of last year, might not give the Wolverines as much help this season.

Possibly Crisler figured that no star could be as right two years in a row as the 1941 Kuzma. Even so, Kuzma, an expert at everything, is counted on as Michigan's ace.

"A bunch of us were huddled over a cup of coffee, peddling those usual pre-season blues," Crisler explained, "and I chipped in with my small contribution. But it won't do any harm. I hope Tom reads the story himself."

The Wolverines, who won six, lost one and tied another last year, have been working for a full week now, and if those powerful Kuzma legs have lost any of their former speed and agility, it's not to be detected from the sidelines.

Kuzma is that second halfback named Tom who came to Michigan from Gary, Ind. (You haven't forgotten Harmon?) and became a sophomore sensation. He's a can-ny punter, a good passer and a hard runner. On first year statistics he's ahead of Harmon's college record.

This season Kuzma should be the spark-plug in a backfield that appears the peer of any in the Western Conference. Granite-shouldered George Ceithaml, of Chicago, the team captain, is back to maintain his reputation as a fierce blocker. Paul White, a speed-merchant from River Rouge, Mich., was injured for a spell in 1941 but has returned looking healthy indeed and will be at right half.

If the Wolverines have a "sleeper" it is a sophomore fullback from Jamestown, N. D., Bob Wiese, who excited the coaches in spring practice. He'll step up to the post vacated by Bob Westfall and should be one of the mid-west's outstanding first year performers.

Crisler's real perplexity is his line—particularly the tackles and ends. Al (Ox) Wistert is the only returning veteran at tackle. A made-over end, Jap Karwales, of Chicago, probably will get the nod at the other tackle, and sophomores will have to provide reserve strength. Three letter-winners are available at end: Rudy Smeja, Elmer Madar and Phil Sharpe.

Bob Kolesar and Julius Franks at guards and Merv Pregulman at center will make the middle of the line strong.

Like most colleges, the Wolverines have a long, severe schedule, opening here Sept. 26 with Great Lakes and then on successive Saturdays meeting Michigan State, Iowa Seahawks, Northwestern, Minnesota, Illinois, Harvard, Notre Dame, Ohio State and Iowa.

Fancy Football Promised At Ohio State This Year By Light but Fast Team

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Sept. 14—(P)—A bit of "fancy stuff," accompanied by plenty of speed, will feature Ohio State University's grid attack this fall, Head Coach Paul E. Brown indicated today.

Brown, in disclosing his starting lineup, declared: "Only three of last year's starters are back, and in the eight spots to be filled we have lost weight, but have picked up speed. We'll have a light, fast team, and one that's able to think."

"We won't have the weight to play a rough, tough, bruising type of game, so we'll have to rely on speed and finesse. You'll see plenty of 'fancy' stuff in our attack."

Absence of a punter constitutes Browns' biggest worry. He had counted on Gene Fekete, the sensational sophomore fullback from Findlay, to do the kicking, but the husky fellow has displayed a bit of slowness in getting the boots away.

As a result the Buck mentor has turned the punting chore over to his left ends, starter Dante Lavelli, the Hudson sophomore, and Tom Cleary, sophomore from Cleveland. Cleary started as a fullback on the third team, jumped to a second team halfback, and was converted to an end last week. He is the best kicker on the squad.

The Bucks, averaging 194 in the line and 184 in the ball-toting department, were to continue their two-day practice sessions this week. They'll drop down to single workouts next week as they taper off for the opener against Fort Knox, September 26.

The Collegiate season gets under way this weekend with six games, launching the abbreviated 175-game campaign. Last year the state's colleges played 209 contests.

Softball League Playoffs Take Spotlight This Week; All-Stars To Play Tonight

The softball games during this summer have started on their last lap with the championships being played off this week.

At 6:30 P. M. Monday (tonight) the two all-star Church League teams will play their second game of a three game series. Homer Davis' bunch won from Ambrose Elliott's Friday night in their first game. Another win for Davis would give him the championship but if the games are split, they will play Wednesday night at the same time.

The playoffs for the Industrial League championship will be held at 8:30 P. M. with Light's Dairy, who took the American Legion team's place position when they dropped from the league the last week, playing against the Fayette Grange, the winner of the first round earlier this summer. They will play either two or three evenings this week and all games will be at 8 P. M. The winner will be decided by the winner of two games.

JOHN KIMBROUGH IS BIG GUN FOR ARMY ALL STARS

Team Takes 36-21 Beating From Packers But Texan Puts Thrills in Game

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 14—(P)—It's still a question whether the Army All Star football teams, with three decisions in five games against National Pro League clubs, will be able to hold that edge in the remaining three contests but it is a dead sure cinch the Pros will have had their fill of John Kimbrough.

Virtually out of the sport for two years except for a few games last season, the Texas A & M graduate of 1940 is the September sensation as a member of Maj. Wallace Wade's Western Army All Stars.

Against the Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee yesterday he ran back a kick for 95 yards and a touchdown as his mates went down in defeat, 36 to 21.

It was the second time he went that distance in the four games his soldier mates have played and the third time he reached pay dirt from more than 50 yards out.

In yesterday's defeat he also plunged for another six-point set up a third with his pulverizing.

The loss made the Army's record against the Pros three wins and two defeats included in the 16 to 0 triumph piled up by Col. Robert Neyland's eastern forces against the New York Giants Saturday.

The Neyland machine takes on the Brooklyn Dodgers at Baltimore Wednesday night before tackling the big bad Bears from Chicago in another charity contest at Boston Sunday. The Westerners' final contest is with the Giants at Syracuse, N. Y., Saturday night.

While the Khaki Kickers monopolized the spotlight, four pro elevens opened the league season with the Chicago Cards downing the Cleveland Rams at Buffalo, 7 to 0, and the Philadelphia Eagles besting the Pittsburgh Steelers, 24 to 14.

In a game that didn't count in the standings, the Bears roughed up the Washington Redskins in the capital city, 33 to 14.

Squirrel Hunting Season To Open Here Tuesday

Farmers and city sportsmen, who like to take a few hours from the hustle and bustle to relax in the woods once in a while, today were oiling up their guns and looking forward with keen anticipation to Tuesday—and the opening of the squirrel hunting season in Fayette and 51 other central and southern Ohio counties.

The season here opens September 15 and closes on September 30. In the 36 northern Ohio counties the season opens one week later but ends at the same time. The daily bag limit is four.

Squirrels are common to all counties of the state, with fox squirrels predominating in the upper half, and grays in the southern half.

The gray squirrel is clean iron gray above and white and yellowish brown underneath. The fox squirrel is rusty brown with bright brown beneath. It varies much in coloring sometimes having markings of gray.

with possession of eight allowed after the first day. Permission of the land owner is required.

While many hunters will take to the woods and even stalk the big trees along creek banks in the more intensively farmed sections of the county, the dyed-in-the-wool nimrod will be heading for the hills to the south and east for his sport—if his tires will stand the trip.

JUST A WARNING
We wonder how efficiently Washington C. H. or other parts of Fayette County would react in the event of an air raid alarm, without plenty of advance warning.

Organization work toward officials and other citizens taking safety precautions has been going on for months, but some of the citizens who were called upon to act as wardens, special policemen or firemen, are reported not to have taken their assignments very seriously.

New York's recent rather mortifying experience, arising from a short-lived air raid alarm, should cause other communities to re-examine their setups.

Like many other cities, New York was proud of her organization. Practice had gone off well. Then came what seemed to be the real thing, in the early morning hours—and all was confusion.

The main master siren never was blown; the alert ended before the responsible fireman decided to break in a door that stuck and balked him. Many street lights never were put out.

Laugh at New York if you will. But we all should think about what would happen if we had an alarm without notice. And that goes for a lot of cities over the country.

INFLATION
A well known writer under the heading of "things one remembers" recently made a homely comparison which strikes us as being very apt. He said:

"One of my earliest recollections as a child is seeing our family cow which broke into the barn and ate her fill of barley. When she was found, she was 'inflated' beyond all hope of saving."

"There is quite a similarity between that poor cow and the actions of millions of our citizens who have been gorging at the Federal Treasury for a good many years now."

As a nation, we have not yet reached the critical condition of the cow, but we are headed that way as the result of gorging ourselves on public funds and using the Federal Treasury as an endless grab bag to finance every crack-pot idea, every loafer and every political project that seem to momentarily please the whim of some pressure group.

We have begun to inflate, as the cow did. But there is still time to save ourselves if we take our nose out of the feed sack—which the cow failed to do.

Washington at a Glance By Charles P. Stewart

WASHINGTON — All news relative to Jap activities of today represents the islanders (and represents 'em absolutely correctly, I haven't a shadow of a doubt) as exactly opposite to the kind of folk I took 'em to be during a couple of years' residence in their midst, as an American news correspondent, once on a time.

It was a long while ago, it's true, but not long enough for a nationality to go through the processes of so fundamental a change in character as that appears to have undergone in the intervening period. Evidently I was mistaken initially, but certainly it was the most completely 100 percent mistake that I ever made on any subject.

The Yankee news service I represented had an information-swapping arrangement with what was known as the Nippon Dempo Tsushisha, meaning the Japan Telegraph News Agency. At its head was an old Jap named Mitzunaga, who has been mentioned in dispatches from the Orient of late.

The welcome I got from that outfit was something to warm the human heart. Director Mitzunaga couldn't speak English, to be sure, but his foreign editor, Ryonasuke Seita, educated in an American university, was assigned to care for me. I wanted interviews with high muck-a-mucks—cabinet members and such. I'd only to express such a wish and a messenger would arrive with a note, written in hentracks, cordially inviting me cases, of the total elimination of dividends. Taxes, a large part of which have gone for peacetime waste and political experiments, are taking the dividends which would otherwise be going to the people. Strange as it may seem, those who have favored all of the economic and social reforms of the past decade without giving any thought that they were the ones who, for the most part, would pay for such reforms, are the ones who are complaining about the lost dividends.

When police arrived, they discovered that she had forgotten to turn off her radio before going out. The creaking door and the eerie laugh were the sound effects of a mystery drama.

The new tax bill now before Congress would virtually wreck the ability of many of our industries to operate on a future sound basis of building up reserves and paying dividends. Complete Co-operation
And, believe me, those cabinet-eers were communicative. I would not guarantee that they always told the truth, but they were a darned sight more polite than the average functionary in Washington.

It wasn't solely a matter of business, either.

My wife was with me, and the Seitas, the Mitzunagas and the Ooedas were families of their own. We entertained back and forth. I never knew anyone in the United States whom I liked better than the Seitas. Had war broken out then, I'd no more have suspected that pair of an inclination to torture me, as an internee, than I'd have anticipated such an inclination on the part of any of my friendly neighbors here at home.

And (dash-ding it!) I doubt that they'd have had it. My theory is that the torturers are that infernal Jap military class, who run things regardless of the comparatively civilized civilian element. I just can't believe it of folk I knew so well and liked so much.

There's a trickiness in the Jap make-up, but, if that imitation was pure trickiness, it was a wonder.

They fool you in another way. The dope has been that Jap ingenuity has been deceptive. It's agreed that the islanders are good imitators. The Japanese have built ships and planes and other mechanical devices that have looked all right on paper, but the theory's been that they wouldn't work very well in practice. They appear to work pretty blamed well.

They've got us on the hog-train in one respect, though.

They catch us democrats, sojourning in such areas as I've mentioned, intern 'em and treat 'em inhumanly.

And what are we going to do about it?

Grab their internees and treat 'em the same way? Good gosh! We can't.

We've got an American newspaperman, J. B. Powell, hooked by the Japanese just back with most of his feet cut off by the Japs, while they were holding from him while he was imprisoned. His feet froze and gangrene set in. And we are going to do in retaliation?

Our Jap internees have been well treated. I know some of 'em like Matsuko Kato. He had a pleasant stay here, as a guest. American journalism liked him. He's been returned to Tokyo undamaged. Some Americans, caught in Jap areas, have been returned more or less dissected.

Don't times change?

Treating Certain Kinds of Low Blood Pressure

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
ALTHOUGH I am frequently asked to say something about low blood pressure, I have been compelled to refrain because there has been nothing to say. Lately, however, a simple treatment for certain forms of low blood pressure has been proved successful, so I will describe it today.

Blood pressure is measured by encircling the arm with a rubber bag attached to a mercury pressure column. When the arm band is inflated until the pressure just obliterated the pulse, the height of the mercury column measures the blood pressure.

Taking the pressures of many thousands of people, this has been found on the average to be 120 millimeters of mercury, recorded as 120. This is the systolic pressure, or the pressure in the arteries when the heart is contracting. The diastolic pressure—when the heart is relaxing—can also be measured, and is on the average 80; a diastolic pressure of 90 is high, and of 100, very high. The upper limit of a normal systolic pressure is considered to be 150.

Averages Are Arbitrary
These averages are, however, quite arbitrary. One out of every three persons over the age of 45 has a blood pressure of 150 or over. It is almost normal rather than a disease in that age period. Of the other 66 persons per 100 in that age period, about 25 have pressures from 120 to 140, about 30 have pressures from 110 to 120 and the rest are below 110.

The ideal blood pressure (not the average) is 110. This is the judgment of a physician who studied a large group of people, also inquiring into their activities. He concluded that at any age the ones who felt best were the most active, experienced the least fatigue and accomplished the best and the most work, and had a pressure

CHAPTER THIRTY-TWO
TONY'S INFLUENCE in the Wister household was strong. "Eat your vegetable, dear," she'd said to Sonny on one occasion, and that young man shook his head stubbornly.

"Uncle Tony say 'tisn't vegetable," he'd explained. Across his yellow head, Tony and Barbara's eyes had met and they broke into laughter.

"So that's the way you're bringing up my son! To confound his mother!"

"I'll always be a good influence," Tony had replied gravely.

She counted the tomatoes in her basket and added another. Tony could always eat one more than he said. And what he'd do with the chocolate cake with the butter icing!

Everything was planned for him today. All the things he liked. Thin bread-and-butter sandwiches with crisp bacon, fried chicken, melon packed in ice. That would be for their noon meal. At night they'd have hot dogs roasted over the fire on the beach, a big thermos bottle of fragrant coffee and wedges of chocolate cake.

She'd had to get up at six to get it ready, but getting up at six was little enough to do to make things nice for Tony. Dear Tony. He was good to her, and for her. And she was good for her. He came to her with his troubles and went away comforted.

She wondered why he never spoke to her about his feeling for Pamela.

She yanked a clump of ragweed out of the pansy bed.

Of course he did tell her that he'd had letters from Pam, mentioning them casually.

Well, she was a sister to Tony and lots of brothers didn't tell their sisters about their love affairs.

She pulled a bunch of radishes and popped them into her basket.

Tony was probably brooding over the difference between his income and the money that Pamela was used to. If he'd only come and tell her, she wouldn't have to be subtle about telling him that girls today didn't care if a man had only a little money if they loved each other. She'd said as much to him. She had not said that she thought any girl would be a fool not to see that Tony was a darling, a man to trust and one that a girl would have a harder time NOT falling in love with than—

It was a good thing she'd told herself just where she and Tony stood months ago or she would have found it easy to fall in love with him herself.

The bells on the church rang for 7 o'clock and Barbara hurried back into the house. Tony was coming for her at nine and she had lots of things to do in the meantime.

She made coffee and filled the thermos bottle, packed it neatly in the big hamper. Then she packed the bathing things, her own new shell-pink sharkskin suit and robe and Sonny's little trunks and sweater. And then, amazingly, it was after eight and she had to help Mable Cronin plan meals for the week for the eight young occupants of the nursery.

Eight, she thought happily: $80 more in the bank this week! Twenty dollars for Mable—who insisted upon an arrangement of taking only a small percentage in place of the generous salary Barbara offered her—and $15 for groceries. There would be $45 left and that would be nearly the amount of the last $50 she owed Pamela.

Tony came for her at nine, and the procession moved out to his car. Barbara went first, carrying cushions and blankets, which she stowed in back with the portable phonograph, and came; then came Tony with Sonny astride his shoulders, whooping merrily and brandishing long-handled forks. Under his arms Tony carried the lunch hamper, grate, newspapers and books.

"How do I look?" he demanded half way to the car, and loud enough for the whole Perkins family on its way to church to hear. "Like a dependable family man?"

Barbara had to laugh. He looked like nothing else, with his hair tousled by her young son. He made, she thought, a very good one.

"Where are we going?" she asked him when they took the road that led to the hills.

"Hodson's lake, a very special spot, selected for a very special reason. Lots of trees, clean water, good beach and no one is likely to disturb us."

"Sounds lovely but untrue. Suppose you're needed for an emergency call?"

"I left word at the house—reluctantly. I'll have to be badly needed and called for if anybody wants to find me today."

They rode in contented silence for a long time.

"Barbie," Tony said abruptly, "I—er—had, as I believe I said, a special reason for wanting to get you away from other people today."

"Pamela?" a voice said in her mind, and her heart skipped a beat. He was going to tell her at last. She decided in that moment that every woman in the world was a little bit jealous of every other woman lucky enough to win the love of a man like Tony. She wondered if her pleasant companionate relationship with him would continue when he became engaged to

First Lady of Turf Having Big Year

By MORROW DAVIS
(Wide World News Service)
NEW YORK—Mrs. Payne Whitney doesn't need another successful racing season to consolidate her position as "first lady of the turf," but she's having one anyway.

It started, of course, when Shut Out carried the famous pink and black silks to victory last May in the richest Kentucky Derby of all, worth $84,225 to the winner. And although the Greentree colt disappointed a week later at Pimlico by finishing no better than fifth in the Preakness won by Mrs. Al Sabath's Alsab, he returned the tables on the "Cinderella Horse" in the Belmont Stakes and dropped $44,520 more into his owner's lap.

Eleven Years Ago
This sequence of events recalls Mrs. Whitney's other three-year-old champion, Twenty Grand, which led the parade in 1931. Winner of the Derby and Belmont, he, too, failed in the Preakness, running second to Mate.

No woman has ever won that Triple Crown, and no other woman has been as close to it as Mrs. Whitney, who, incidentally, is the only woman ever to send out two Derby winners.

Pot of Gold
Shut Out may not be the horse Twenty Grand was—in fact, few think he is—but the son of Equipoise is a cinch to surpass his predecessor in lifetime earnings. Twenty Grand closed his career with $261,790 to his credit. Shut Out, with the Derby, Belmont, Arlington Classic ($69,700 net), Yankee Handicap and other stakes added to his $17,210 "pittance" as a two-year-old, has passed the quarter-million mark.

All of which arouses speculation as to whether Mrs. Whitney will for the first time be the leading money-winning owner of the year. She seems to have a nice margin over rival stables campaigning in New York, but important fall stakes are yet to be decided and there are factors elsewhere in the racing scene.

Star Juvenile
For example, Occupation, a two-year-old owned by John Marsch, of Chicago, has won the Washington Park Futurity, Washington Park Juvenile Stakes and Arlington Futurity—for total earnings of $117,575—and is eligible to the Belmont Futurity and Pimlico Futurity as well.

Then there is Alsab, which came back from a leg injury and romped off with the $60,850 Washington Park Derby, and may yet dispute Shut Out's claim to three-year-old supremacy. If the Sabaths decide on another vigorous campaign for their bargain horse, there is no telling and international," and that labor would be called upon to make many sacrifices, but it recalled that "even more serious measures have been taken in other countries of very recent date."

"The present law," it said, "will permit us to prevent their being extended to us."

(This may have been a reference to the action taken by the Germans last week in instituting conscription of manpower in the conquered Duchy of Luxembourg.)

There is no limitation on where persons drafted for labor under the law may be sent, although full details on how it would be applied were not published at once. Still uncertain was the question of how foreigners, resident in France, would be affected.

Infractions of the law are punishable by prison sentences ranging up to five years and by fines up to 30,000 gold francs. These penalties may be doubled in the case of second offenders.

Promulgation of the decree follows a government campaign to recruit skilled workmen to be sent to Germany in exchange for the release of French war prisoners in a ratio of three workers for one prisoner.

Thus far, however, only one trainload of "relieved" prisoners has arrived in France.

The absence of the prisoners—estimated at more than 1,250,000—has confronted France with a shortage of labor, particularly in agriculture.

(In London, fighting French sources said the new Vichy decree appeared to be a camouflage move under which workers could be sent "collectively" to Germany to work in Nazi war industries.

(These quarters said Pierre Laval, collaborationist chief of government at Vichy, had been obliged to institute a system of forced labor by the "ghastly failure" of his efforts to provide Germany with 300,000 workers on a voluntary basis.)

Are you entitled to wear a "target" lapel button? You are if you are investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. It's your badge of patriotism.

Bar Association Entertained at Steak Supper

A supper of many pleasures and a particularly delightful affair was staged on Friday evening, when Judge Harry M. Rankin and his son, Attorney Richard P. Rankin were hosts to members of the Bar Association and two guests.

Large and delicious T-bone steaks were grilled on the outdoor furnace, the aroma of the sizzling steaks in the cool autumn evening, helped to whet the appetites of the guests. Baked potatoes, large platters of chilled tomatoes and everything that goes with such a menu was served, and relished to the utmost.

Tables and chairs were arranged in the large backyard, a perfect setting for such a party.

The guests attended the Lion-Rotarian baseball game following the supper.

Included in the evening's pleasures were Attorneys Rell Allen, Ed Bush, Otis Core, N. P. Clyburn, Charles Hire, Ray R. Maddox, Troy Junk W. S. Paxson, R. N. Winegardener, F. Scott Zimmerman, and Will Ford and other guests were Mr. Burris sharp and Mr. Dick Ramsey.

The Alhambra, the palace and the citadel of the Moorish kings, was built in the 13th century.

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—(P)—Wheat and rye futures touched highs not reached since mid-July, showing gains of 2 and more than 3 cents, respectively, as buying expanded in the grain market today.

Washington reports indicating anti-inflation legislation may authorize the president to limit farm prices to parity or highest levels reached this year and may provide a definite floor stimulated buying of cereals, traders said, because grain prices are well below parity. Mill buying of wheat was reported and shippers sold more than 100,000 bushels to be moved from here to outside mills.

Profit taking reduced the gains late in the session but wheat closed 3/4-1 1/4 cents higher than Saturday, September 12.35-1/2, Dec. 1.26-3/4; corn unchanged to 3/4c up, Sept. 83c, Dec. 86 1/4c; oats 1/8-3/4c up; soybeans 1/4-1/2c higher and rye 2 1/2-2 3/4c higher. Sept. 70 1/2c.
